Council Nixes City Hall Use For Local Political Group; Suggests Rec Center As Site

Use of the city hall by a political group would open the doors for every organization to seek use of the building, the city council concurred at study session Monday night in refusing the Better Government for Daly City group's request to use the hall for meetings.

The Better Government group is the new political organization which has attacked the councilmen and their methods. In a letter from Arthur Bodien, president, the group asked use of the city hall on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

Instead, the council said, the political group and any other civic or social groups should be allowed use of the community center or the Westlake clubhouse, scheduled for completion in about six weeks.

Said Mayor Joseph Verducci, "If we allow them to have use of the city hall, it'll become just another recreation center.

City Manager Howard Stites reminded the council that, "You might want to call a special meeting or hearing at city hall on the nights the organization was scheduled to use it."

Stites also said that many spe-

Chinese Case Is Set Over

The case against six Chinese charged with gambling in a Mission street establishment last June was continued again in municipal court Tuesday.

The matter was set over to next Tuesday.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci will then act on three separate motions entered by attorneys for the defendants—motion to quash because of evidence obtained by an "illegal search warrant"; motion to compel the district attorney to elect causes of action; and motion to dismiss.

The second motion is based on the claim that the district attorney's complaint is ambiguous, alleging more than one offense.

If Judge Bocci grants either the motion to quash, or to dismiss, the case will automatically be dismissed. If he refuses the three motions, date for jury trial will then be set.

The Chinese were arrested by Broadmoor police and district attorney's aides, who allegedly observed the gambling operation at a Colma shack for several hours, after which they obtained a search warrant.

JACK KENDREE, local C of C boss, speaking at the BOB SILVESTRI testimonial last week, introduced MRS. THOMAS CALLAN, wife of the county supervisor, as his "charming dining partner."

Then pointing to Tom, who was arrested last year by Millbrae police for speeding, Jack said, "That fellow to her left is somebody we just brought along to drive the car."

The supervisor managed a smile.

Ten gents who like the Dodgers will ride in wheelbarrows for three miles Sunday, pushed by gents who liked the Yankees, as a bet payoff. Each wheelbarrow will be equipped with a built in fifth of spirits, and the itinerary will include stops at 11 bars along the way.

This brings up an interesting question: If one of the wheelbarrow riders should chance to get a little swacked on the way, could police arrest him for being drunk

NOVEL PAYOFF ON SERIES BET SUNDAY

A total of 1775 pounds of Brooklyn Dodger baseball fans will be pushed by wheelbarrow for three miles this Sunday in Daly City, because their betting faith in the World Series champions was justified.

Pushing the 10 Dodger fans in the second annual "bourbon" marathon will be 10 stalwart men who placed their wagering faith in the losing New York Yankees.

Terms of the bettors were not only fantastic, but indicative of a king-sized thirst.

On Sunday, at 11 a.m., accompanied by police escort and probably several hundred autos, the winners will board their one-wheel vehicles, accompanied by a fifth of spirits supplied by the losers, at the Central Club, 6282 Mission street. The retinue will "float" its way the one and a half miles down Mission street to Colma, then will return by the same route in a trip that is expected to consume three hours and several gallons of "fuel."

Cargo of Spirits

The cargo of spirits which will be carried by the rider in each wheelbarrow will be consumed by both passenger and pusher at the intervals when the latter stops.

The loser must also stop at each bar enroute (there are 11), and set up drinks for he and his rider.

Last year eight men participated in the gaming, but sentiments were so strong in this year's Series that 20 recruits signed up.

Line Score

Line score on the statistics for Sunday's wheelbarrow and whiskey itinerary shows the riders weighing a total of 1775, for an average of 177 pounds per man. Straws will undoubtedly be drawn by the Yankee fans to see who gets to push the less hefty of the winners, Don Frederico, 110-pound Cabbie. The pushing team weighs 1933 pounds, or 193 pounds average.

Likewise, the pusher who draws

Figures Show Jeff Hi Education Costs Low

Jefferson High school operated last year at the lowest cost per pupil of any district in the county, according to the county superintendent of schools.

Operating cost per pupils based on average daily attendance was $406.23 a year.

The county offices also showed that the high school district has the lowest assessed valuation per student.

City Sees Building Slump In Sept.

Building in Daly City slumped sharply in September to a total of $343,538 in valuation, second lowest total during 1955.

The total was a marked drop from the near-record previous month, August, when 1145 permits for $1,542,681 in construction projects were taken out, according to office of city building inspector George Hopman.

The $343, 538 figure is lowest of the year, with exception of May, when projects totalling $325,507 were authorized with permits.

Reason for the overall decline in valuation appeared to be the reduction in Henry Doelger's construction program for the month. During August, Doelger's firm took out 107 permits for dwellings, out of the total 117 such permits issued. Building for homes alone that month hit $1,018,369.

The Doelger firm explained that a labor shortage accounted partly for their slow-down in September home building. Carl Timmons, engineer, said most of the Doelger sub-contractors and craftsmen were busy on the commercial projects at the Westlake Shopping Center mall, and would be tied up there until completion of the buildings about February, 1956. Concerted building of dwellings

'Indigestion' Proves Fatal Heart Attack For Visitor In DC

A house guest who Sunday night told his Daly City hostess, "I have indigestion and think I'm going to die," was found dead, apparently of a heart attack, about two hours later.

Dead is Enrico A. Ferrera, 55, a real estate salesman from Van Nuys, California. Ferrera was staying here while on a business trip at the home of a family friend, Mrs. Selma Seay of 101 Westlake avenue.

Mrs. Seay told police that Ferrera had gone to a football game that afternoon and had returned to her house about 10:30 o'clock that evening after having dinner at a San Francisco restaurant.

She said that Ferrera complained of not feeling well but that she considered his statement

Thornton Beach Ruled Out As Fill, Cover Dump Site

Thornton beach was practically ruled out today as a site for a fill and cover dump operation, when a title search revealed the land is owned by the state.

At Monday's council meeting, Al Sereni, president of Daly City Scavenger Co., described the beach property as "ideal" for fill and cover operations. The Scavenger firm has been burning garbage on the McKeon property off Skyline boulevard, but are operating there on a 30-day-lease basis by the owner. State law now requires that all garbage be disposed of through the fill and cover method.

City Manager Howard Stites had said Monday that if the land was owned by the county, the city might be able to obtain it for dumping.

Title search has disclosed, however, that lease to half of the land has been recorded under state ownership, while the other half is deeded to the state, but has not yet been recorded.

Stites said ownership of the land by the state will make it practically impossible for the city to obtain as a dump site.

However, he said he would start negotiations next week to obtain coast property south of Thornton. Stites said the city would have jurisdiction over the garbage site, but the garbage firm would pay for the land.

He said tight control over the dump would be necessary to prevent it from becoming a public nuisance.

CRUELTY TO DOGS HERE IS CHARGED

A Daly City man is scheduled to appear before the district attorney next Tuesday on a charge that he threw boiling water on at least two dogs Sunday morning. Charging Urban Pope, 168 East Vista avenue, with cruelty to animals are local Poundmaster Charles Maschinot and State Humane Officer William Nelson.

Pope, speaking through his attorney, Hartley Appleton, said today that he did not throw boiling water on the dogs but that he used hot water from the faucet. The attorney declared his client insisted that he tested the water with his hand before he poured it in the kettle.

Maschinot, however, claims he has a witness who declares that he saw Pope heat the water on the stove.

Policeman's Dog

Expected to be released from the McIntyre vetinary hospital today is a boxer, Fritz, belonging to Daly City Police Sergeant David Hansen, 57 Garwood drive. Fritz has been under treatment since the day of the incident.

Maschinot said that he believes the shock of having the boiling water poured on him sent Hansen's dog rushing into the street, where he was hit by a car, thus further adding to his injuries.

Dr. McIntrye had termed the dog's condition as "very listless." He was treated for shock, burns and internal bleeding. The doctor declared that the burns were very similar to a "severe sunburn."

Second dog injured was one of mixed breed owned by Mrs. Franklin S. Sears of 169 East Vista ave-

ANIMAL LEASH LAW REVISED; TAKE UP MONDAY

Several revisions in Daly City's animal leash ordinance were made by the city council in study session Monday night, in preparation for introduction of the law next Monday.

City Attorney Frank Blum was instructed by the council to reword the section detailing police powers of the poundmaster.

At last week's meeting a local attorney claimed the clause of the ordinance allowing the pound man to enter private property in pursuit of an animal was "unconstitutional."

Blum, pointing out that the sec-

SF Visitor Fails To Heed Cops' Warning; Ends Up In City Jail

A 34-year-old San Francisco man who refused to take advice offered him by Daly City police officers ended up spending early Saturday morning in the city jail.

Scheduled to appear on a drunk charge in municipal court next Tuesday is John Stephen Streif, 34, 949 Rhode Island street, San Francisco. Streif is now out on $150 bail.

Officers said they first spotted Streif when he was driving south on Mission street shortly after midnight. They watched him as he parked his car at Mission and Rice and stopped him as he started to walk across Mission.

The San Franciscan was told not to drive and politely escorted to a taxi by the policemen.

Two hours later they saw Streif getting into his parked car and they arrested him. Streif refused to submit to a sobriety test.

Colma Incorporation Hearing Set; City Prepares To Protest

Daly City has promised to protest the incorporation of Northgate as a sixth class city when hearing is held at Redwood City November 1.

The city will protest on the grounds that boundaries of the area up for incorporation include a strip of property along Junipero Serra boulevard which has already been proposed for annexation to Daly City.

City Attorney Frank Blum disclosed, "We definitely have prior jurisdiction over the land."

The area, a narrow uninhabited strip east of Junipero Serra boulevard between Daly City and Town of Colma limits, was presented for annexation last May in petition presented to the city by the owners, Edward Bocci and Conti Estate.

Cuts In Half

It cuts practically in half the area proposed for incorporation, which includes Sterling Park, Garden Village and about 200 acres of McKeon subdivision property extending up to Skyline boulevard on the west.

Whether this annexation by Daly City would legally eliminate chances for incorporation has not yet been determined, but geographically, it would divide the town into two distinct areas.

Blum claims that since petition for annexation of the land was entered many months before the incorporation movement started, Daly City has first priority over the land.

However, under a new state law, a city, before annexing land bordering a highway, must obtain consent of all cities within three miles of the property. South San Francisco has already given its approval, while applications for approval have already been forwarded to Town of Colma and San Francisco.

"Fulfilled Obligation"

"We've fulfilled our obligation on the annexation, but we still need approval of the other two cities," Blum said.

The attorney said the fact that Daly City had made every attempt to expedite the annexation showed the city's good faith that it wasn't just acting to stymie the Northgate incorporation.

Thomas Noonan, leader of the incorporation movement, said boundaries of the proposed city definitely included the Conti-Bocci strip.

The incorporation hearing was set Tuesday by the board of supervisors upon receipt of the $577 necessary to cover election costs.

The incorporation group also certified to the board that money had been raised to pay the approximate $700 needed for publication of legal notices. Total cost of the entire election fell well below the $2300 originally estimated by County Clerk John Bruning.

Noonan revealed that his group had "borrowed most of the money from a homeowner in Sterling Park." The remainder was collected from individual citizens and property owners, according

HIGHER RENTAL FEES SET FOR LOCAL CENTER

Higher rental fees for use of the community center by private groups were established by Daly City recreation commission in a special meeting Tuesday night.

Fee for profit-making functions, formerly a blanket $75, was raised to $90 and called for a charge of five per cent of all revenue grossed oved $500.

Charge for private parties holding non-profit functions remained at $75, while a special levy of $55, in addition to the $90, was set for groups conducting boxing shows.

This $55, Recreation Director James Mason said, will cover cost of setting up and taking down the ring. The profit clause will also be in effect on boxing shows.

Better Government Club Cancels Meet

The meeting of Better Government for Daly City group, scheduled for Wednesday night, was called off by President Arthur Bodien.

Bodien said the political group would conduct its next session as soon as a suitable meeting place was found.

The group was turned down by the council in its request to use the city hall for a meeting place.

Loading Zones Set For Mission Area

Establishment of three loading zones to reduce the double parking problem at the "top of the hill" area on Mission street was tentatively approved by the city council Monday night.

Councilmen Edward Dennis and Del Wilson, serving on the parking committee, recommended loading zones be set up at the following locations:

1. On the East side of Mission street at 6315. Two parking meter spots would be taken up.

2. West side of Mission south of Hillcrest drive, where two parking meter spaces would also be utilized.

3. West side of Mission at 6390, where three parking meter spaces would be used.

The council also called for an educational campaign to instruct the merchants in ways to eliminate double parking.

Councilman Sanford Vickers said the merchants should cooperate to work for an off-street

Carpenter Hangs Self In City Jail Over Weekend

A 33-year-old local carpenter, using his shirt as a noose, hung himself from the bars of a cell at the city jail where he had been imprisoned on drunk and assault and battery charges Saturday morning. The body was found by Police Traffic Inspector Henry Sundermann less than two hours after the arrest was made.

Dead is Edward A. Nelson of 83 Shakespeare street. Nelson's suicide marks the third hanging in the jail that police recall.

The train of events started at 11:10 a.m. when police received a call from Nelson's daughter who said that her father was beating her mother. When officers arrived, Nelson had left, and after a check of the top-of-the-hill bars, the men returned to the station.

When the girl called police again at 11:34 a.m., officers responded and found Nelson at home. He was taken to the station and booked on charges of being drunk and assault and battery.

Take Belongings

All his belongings were taken except his pants, shirt, undershirt, shoes and socks, according to the report.

At 11:45 a.m. he was taken to the cell.

Sundermann checked the cell at 1:10 p.m., and Nelson requested that he be allowed to call his wife. The inspector said he replied that he would arrange for the call as soon as another officer could be obtained to take care of the office while Sundermann guarded the prisoner. Only one

JOSEPH BELLI, local Lion and grocery store proprietor, was scheduled to enter the hospital Monday for major surgery.

He'll have his larynx (voice-box) removed and after convalescing will learn to speak from his stomach.

City Clerk B. C. Ross, while travelling through the state of Washington on his recent vacation, was an eye witness to an accident that was fatal to two persons.

Ross discovered later that the victims were Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM STEINHOFF, of 100 East Moltke, Daly City.

HENRY DOELGER left this week for Europe, where he will take a peek at the progress on his new yacht. He's staying for a month.

MRS. HOWARD PYLE, wife of Ike's deputy assistant who addressed 500 Republicans at a $100 a plate dinner Tuesday night in San Mateo, confessed that she was once a staunch Democrat, as was her father.

A breakdown of building for September showed that 52 individual permits were issued, with the following valuations: new dwellings, 24, $218,959; dwelling alterations, 17, $13,104; one motel addition, $15,000 two service stations, $38,800; moving three buildings, $55,000.

about dying only a figure of speech. Mrs. Seay continued that she retired for the night but woke up shortly afterwards and noticed the lights were turned on in the kitchen. She told officers that she arose to investigate and found Ferrera unconscious on the kitchen floor.

Mrs. Seay turned the body over and doused Ferrera's face with water and upon failure to revive him, called the San Francisco police department. The call was transferred to Daly City police, who responded.

Ferrera was taken to Junipero Serra hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

He is survived by his wife, Mary A., a sister, Mrs. Vivian Marquis of Washington, and a brother, Albert D. Ferrera of Oregon.

Services were held Wednesday at 1 p.m. from W. C. Lasswell & Co. Interment was at Burbank.

nue. Maschinot said that Mrs. Sears' dog was not as badly burned as the Hansen dog but that Mrs. Sears had greased her pet's wounds.

Other Dogs

Witnesses said that two other dogs were victims of the water-treatment Maschinot stated.

All factions of the dispute agree that the incident occurred in the yard of the Pope home. Apparently the male dogs were trying to reach a female dog in heat in the back yard of the Pope's house.

Pope, however, claims that the Hansen dog knocked down his daughter by jumping on her. He said, through Appleton, that she suffered minor abrasions. When he tried to force the dogs out of his back yard, they refused to leave until he poured the water on them, he said.

Appleton declared that dogs in the back yard of the Pope home had constituted a repeated nuisance. He added that his client was only trying to "protect his property" and that he was "well within his rights."

Hansen, when notified that his dog allegedly knocked down the Pope child, replied by stating that he has three children of his own between the ages of one to six years and that the dog is gentle at all times.

Amount of fines and charges were revised upward by the council.

Charge per day for keeping animals had been 50 cents for dogs, 25 cents for cats, and $1.00 for horses and cows. This was raised, respectively, to $1, 50 cents and $1.50.

Charge for picking up the animals was set at $2 for dogs, $1 for cats, and $10 for horses and cows.

License fee for dogs was established at $2.

Under the $2 dog impounding fee set up, $2 will be charged for the first two offenses, $4 for each offense thereafter during a 12 months period.

man is on duty at the police station during the weekend and night shifts.

The inspector returned upstairs and called Officer Art Linhares to return to the station, after which he called Nelson's wife to see whether she wanted to talk to her husband.

Planned To Commit

Mrs. Nelson replied that she did not wish to speak with Nelson and that she planned to file commitment papers against him with the district attorney the following morning.

Sundermann left the office under Linhares' care and went downstairs to tell Nelson that his wife refused to talk with him. This was at 1:35 p.m.

The prisoner's body was hanging from the bars. Sundermann said that he quickly ripped the shirt and lowered the body to the floor where he gave artificial respiration but to no avail.

Police Record

Nelson's record with the local department dated back to October of 1952 when police were called to settle a family dispute. Latest police intervention was on March 19 of this year when officers took Nelson under protective custody when he attempted suicide in the basement of his house.

Nelson was pronounced dead on arrival at Junipero Serra hospital and his body was taken to W. C. Lasswell & Co. Graveside services at Golden Gate National cemetery were held Monday.

cial commission meetings were held at city hall, tying up the facilities for at least six or seven nights a month.

He also observed that if a group met in the hall late at night, the problem of cleaning up before morning would be encountered.

City Attorney Frank Blum said that there was "no definite law on the subject" as to whether the hall could be used for private meetings, pointing out that it was "entirely a policy matter for the council."

Councilmen said work would start soon on the lower floor of the community center, making that area available for club meetings.

George Kirchhubel, taking in the study session meeting, objected to the council's policy on use of the center, stating, "Politics is the science of government. No finer organization can be had than a political one."

He added that the schools allow use of their space for meeting.

"Why don't these people use the schools then?" asked another member of the audience.

NEWSPAPER WEEK: READERS FIRST

What makes your newspaper, such as THE RECORD, the basic and primary reading habit of the people in a community like Daly City?

Well, a lot of things do, but let's suggest just a few.

The reliable coverage of news—all of the news, not just the bare headline facts by the newspaper—is indispensable to the community. Think how your newspaper has kept you informed—how it has exposed corruption and crime to help make your city a better place in which to live—how by giving you the news, it has led the way to better law enforcement, increased fire protection, fought for better schools and parks and playgrounds. Think of the thousands of lines of space given to the Chamber of Commerce to help the city progress or of the space it gave to the Tuberculosis Sean Sale, the Polio Drive, the Red Cross, the Community Chest, and other worthy causes which could not exist without this help.

It keeps the individual informed of what goes on right down to the scope of his own block.

Let's go into a typical Daly City home and see what happens to the newspaper.

The woman of the family looks at the society page for news of women she knows; of parties given and who was there.

Recent surveys show that 95 per cent of those women who read a newspaper—and that's practically all, read the advertisements and whether it's a car or a hat that hits her eye, something usually happens.

News and facts from the paper help the man of the family form his opinions and he finds mental relaxation in the features and columns. Local business news helps him keep abreast of local economy and the sports he devours. And he likes to see his own name in the newspaper, news of his marriage, his latest promotion, or his election as president or officer of some club or lodge. Then, too, he follows the latest advertisements.

Newspapers satisfy the hunger for facts, fresh and straight and complete while they are still news. We all know that the closer anything comes to home, the more real it is. Thousands can become homeless through some disaster in some distant area, but right or wrong, it bothers us a lot more if we hear our rent is going up.

America's free press belongs to the people and not to the newspapers.

Your newspaper today is published by men and women who recognize newspapers must put out a product which will appeal to all denominations and parties who are entitled to all of the news regardless of personal opinions. Every newspaper has the right and every editor has the right to express its and his own opinion on the Editorial Page of course.

We and other newspapers allow readers to express their opinions through a "Letters to the Editor" column.

This newspaper is more than a dispenser of local news. It avails itself of the boundless opportunities to do good. Its success depends upon the confidence its readers place in the newspaper and the respect they have for those who conduct the publication.

"VOLUNTEER" FIREMEN — H. Z. Weibel (left), superintendent of Jefferson Elementary School district, Jack Kendree, Daly City Chamber of Commerce president, Fire Captain Mel Hanson and Pete Markovich, representing North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association, get on the big red fire wagon as they prepare to launch city-wide campaign for "Fire Prevention Week" October 9 to 15. The educational program is headed by the local fire department, in conjunction with the Chamber, insurance agents, and the schools, where fire drills will be conducted and poster competition held.

Many Agencies Aid In DC Observance Of Fire Prevention

Fire prevention week, an observance that started after Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern in a barn, starting the historical Chicago fire in 1871, will be held here from October 9 through 15.

The Daly City fire department, local insurance agents, the Chamber of Commerce and local schools will all participate actively in the observance, purpose of which is to instill in the minds of all residents and business people the importance of proper education in combatting fire.

Poster Contest

All elementary school youngsters, public and parochial, in classes from third to sixth grade will submit drawings on fire prevention week, while seventh and eighth graders will make appropriate posters.

Awards will be given to classrooms whose contestant is first, and each school will receive a junior fire marshall pennant. First prize among all contests competing in the poster group will be a dalmatian pup.

Prior to the contest, school fire drills will be conducted by the fire department.

Family Participation

Family participation will come under the heading of junior fire marshall report. Each youngster will be given a report to present to his parents. This report has 11 questions essential to fire prevention. The father and mother will be asked to answer each question. Upon presentation of the report to the teacher, each youngster will receive a junior fire marshall badge donated by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

On the commercial aspect of Fire Prevention Week, the fire department will visit every place of business. "This will be somewhat of a survey which will prove most advantageous in case of fire, for by knowing various outlets of each building, it will help immeasurably toward fire fighting," Chief Elmer Kennedy said.

Proclamation

WHEREAS thousands of lives and hundreds of millions of dollars in property are lost each year through fires; and

WHEREAS, as a result of these destructive fires, immeasurable losses are caused in employment, production, and other economic activities; and

WHEREAS fire prevention programs have proved effective in communities throughout the Nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JOSEPH J. VERDUCCI, Mayor of the City of Daly City, California, do hereby designate the week beginning October 9, 1955, as Fire Prevention Week.

I call upon the citizens of the City of Daly City, and all business, labor, Veterans' and farm organizations, as well as schools, civic groups and public information agencies, to actively observe Fire Prevention Week. I also direct the employees of the City of Daly City to assist in this effort to reduce the loss of life and property resulting from fires.

JOSEPH J. VERDUCCI,
Mayor of the City of Daly City

WIA Election Invalid; Court Orders 2nd Vote

Superior Court Judge Louis B. Dematteis' ruling that Westlake Subdivisions Improvement association's board of directors was illegally elected last December 6 was hailed this week as a "victory" for defendants in the Westlake dues case, but the association's attorney said Dematteis' decision would have no bearing on the litigation now pending over payment of dues to the association.

Dematteis said three directors, Charles Santuccio, Richard Stark and William Dias, were elected last year without a quorum, and ordered that a new election for their positions be set within 60 days. Hold-over directors, President Starr Dunham and Cass Norton, will be allowed to serve in office until a valid election is held.

The judge pointed to the fact that bylaws provide no business shall be transacted without a majority of the eligible voting members present. Last year's election meeting was attended by only a small fraction of the entire membership.

Suit against the association was brought by Irwin T. Cohen, 49 Oakmont, on May 9.

Attorney Allan Sapiro, who represented Cohen and who is also counsel for the five Westlake couples sued for delinquent dues and assessments by the association, termed Dematteis' decision a "victory" for his cause.

Question of Validity

He said, "This action raises the question of the validity of any agreements made by the board with Henry Doelger concerning membership requirements made during the past year." Sapiro explained that while his clients were told membership was mandatory, persons moving into Westlake within the past year have not been required to join the association.

He said probably any action taken by the board during the past year might be termed invalid.

However, J. W. Jackson, association attorney, said Dematteis ruling would "have no bearing" on the suit to obtain back dues. He claimed that the suit was authorized by the previous board of directors, who were validly elected.

In addition, Jackson said, all action by the present board of directors would be considered valid since they were acting as a "de facto" board during their term in bery declared.

Starr Dunham, chairman of the board, agreed. "I questioned it also," he said.

Dunham continued that "a certain member of the association" had advanced the idea of a clubhouse for Westlake residents to Doelger, but that Doelger had "frowned on it."

Second clubhouse suggestion, which also died, was advanced by Lee Lester, 114 Westdale avenue. Lester proposed that the WIA donate some sort of equipment to the new clubhouse at Westlake park.

Other business on Monday night's agenda included:

1. Agreement to investigate the possibility of planting Hawthorne trees in the Westlake tract as suggested by Sol J. Ormando, 164 Windsor drive.

2. Explanation of the WIA court cases by J. W. Jackson, attorney.

3. Agreement to lend addressograph plates to organizatons for other than commercial use. This request was made by Allan Sapiro, attorney for clients opposing the WIA.

DC CLERK TAKES "FAST TOUR" OF MARCHBANKS PARK

A 40-year-old local clerk took a fast tour of Marchbanks park Saturday night when his brakes failed and he plowed through two wire fences on the property. Recreation Director James Mason today gave from $700 to $1200 as a rough estimate of damage.

Cited for driving with defective brakes was Guadalupe R. Gonzalez, 230 Parkview avenue.

Gonzalez told police that his brakes failed and in order to avoid hitting another car coming up Parkview avenue, he was forced to turn his auto toward the park. Officers said his car sailed through a wire fence, over a three-foot bulkhead, another section of wire fence and finally came to rest on the basketball court.

The clerk was not injured, according to the police report.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

We recently spent a few days in the Los Angeles area and were fortunate enough to be able to tour the Walt Disney Studios at Burbank, where we chatted with one of the Chief Animators, saw the underwater tank used in filming "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," (saw the sets of the interior of the Nautilus at Disneyland), saw the largest sound stage on the West Coast (from the outside, it wasn't in use at the particular moment), watched rehersals of a forthcoming program of Disney's TV's Show "Mickey Mouse Club," and asked so many questions of Sayle Brown, our genial guide, that he barely had time to answer one before another was fired at him.

We took innumerable notes, not all of them decipherable now, and only wish that we had taken more, and asked more questions, particularly of Bob Younquist, the above mentioned Chief Animator.

Re-Issue Fantasia

We were extremely interested to learn that Mr. Youngquist had worked on the Sixth Symphony sequence of the never-to-be-forgotten "Fantasia," and also worked on the cartoon currently being presented by Richfield at Disneyland. We understand from Mr. Brown that "Fantasia" is to be reissued. Uncut, we hope.

When we interrupted Bob Youngquist's work that day, he was putting the final touches on some drawings of Jiminy Cricket, a leading character in Disney"s "Pinocchio" of a few years back, who is making his comeback via the TV trail, illustrating safety and health rules for the moppet set.

After leaving this department, we stopped by the camera department and watched the operator of a multi-plane camera. Now, please don't ask us to explain that one; anything beyond the Brownie stage is a complete mystery to us. The closest we can come in describing it is to say it resembles a giant X-Ray machine standing about 20' high. From there, on to the Paint Lab where we learned that there are 82 families of colors, each family containing 600 values. Peeked into the various bins containing the pigments, one of which was a bluish-green that looked as though it would glow in the dark.

After leaving the Paint Lab went over to Stage 1 where members of the younger set were rehearsing "The Gadget Tree Song" for Roy Williams' and Jimmie Dodd's above mentioned "Mickey Mouse Club." The best way we can describe the goings-on is ordered confusion, presided over by Dick Darley, a calm, soft-spoken director who must be gifted with the patience of Job. We lost track of the number of times the cast sang their song about a "Mouse-Ke-Musical Gadget Tree," but it was often enough to implant it firmly in our memory.

"Railroadin' Man"

Read a squib in a trade paper the other day that Stan Jones, who wrote "Ghost Riders in the Sky," has been cast in Disney's CinemaScope Technicolor film, "The Great Locomotive Chase." Jones has also written "Railroadin' Man," which will be the musical theme of this picture. This reminds us that among other things seen at the Studio, that we just haven't the space to detail, was an old locomotive. When we inquired about it, Sayle Brown told us that it was to be put in shape for "The Chase."

We had also intended to tell you about Disney's latest True-Life Adventure film, "The African Lion," and our visit to Disneyland, but they must wait for another day.

PERSHING TEACHER'S PHONE CALL RESCUES LOCAL WOMAN

A call from a General Pershing schoolteacher resulted in quick action by the Daly City police department Monday morning. The teacher, Mrs. Lea Fox, phoned police when one of her six-year-old students reported that her mother was sick and lying on the floor of the kitchen in their home.

Officer Chuck Munday responded to the home of 674 Hanover street, and after kicking in the door, he found Mrs. Katherine Giblin, 34, lying unconscious. She had apparently suffered a heart attack and was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital. Attendants at the hospital said she was released the following day.

He and his bride are anxiously looking forward to moving into their new home in Belmont. Right now they are residing with his parents the Donald Dicksons of 538 Crocker. The Dickson family were all very happy to see Robert home for a few days visit. A recent graduate of Jeff, he is now with the Division of Forestry in Santa Rosa. Their other son Donald is still at the Naval Air Base in Japan.

Who was that local celebrity, who in the wee hours of the morning after taking his wife to work came back home to get some more shut eye and got out of the car in his pj's? Mighty sharp looking outfit, I'd say.

I see that PFC Dick Hicks was home recently to visit with his folks on Abbot. Dick is very happy and proud of being a Marine and is still at Camp Pendleton.

Jerilyn Vickers celebrated her birthday by having dinner out and taking in a movie with Mom. You look pretty sharp in your first pair of high heels, Jerilyn.

Little Patty Kahle of Second avenue, who is only ten is busy taking ice skating lessons with the intermediate skating class at the Legg Studio every week.

Seems like there are many late birthday wishes going to folks in this edition. Just heard that Toni Radzikowski of Abbot celebrated her tenth birthday. Mom took her on a big shopping spree.

Our sincere sympathy to Mrs. Stanford Hannah on the loss of her mother.

Another little guy celebrated his birthday recently with a big party —David Bonella, also of Abbot. All of David's little friends helped him to make his fifth birthday a gala occasion.

Off to Chester county went Bob Sarenceni last weekend to get in two weeks of deer hunting. This is Bob's second trip and so far he has shot the biggest deer that has been weighed in at Guerneville. Slim Lawrence, another Abbot resident, is also away for a week of hunting.

Well, that's it for this week—remember the number is PL. 5-5419, so let me know what's new with you.

Youth Gets 5 Citations In Attempt To Obey DC Parking Ordinance

A local 20-year-old youth ended up being cited for five traffic violations early Tuesday morning when he made an attempt to obey the stringent "no parking on the wrong side of the street" ordinance now in effect by the Daly City police department.

J. Frank Garcia, 71 Hillcrest drive, an office clerk, told officers that he started to park his panel truck on the wrong side of Hillcrest drive, when he suddenly remembered the recent campaign. As he started to pull away, his brakes apparently failed and his truck rolled forward, damaging a car and a garage door of an apartment building.

Garcia was cited for having no license in his possession, speeding, driving without due caution, faulty brakes and driving on the wrong side of the street.

He was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for minor injuries to his shoulder and knee.

Owner of the damaged car, Horace Suno, Jr., 25, 129 Hillcrest drive, was cited for parking on the wrong side of the street.

Do your Christmas shopping early. . . . See the classified section for bicycles, electric trains, small appliances, radios and TVs.

Pensioner In Life Attempt At Motel

A 66-year-old pensioner, said to be suffering from an incurable skin disease, attempted to take his own life at a Mission street motel Monday evening by inhaling carbon monoxide fumes, Broadmoor police reported.

William Harris, 1010 Post street, was brought to Junipero Serra hospital by ambulance after a resident of the motel observed him parked in his car with the motor running and windows closed.

Broadmoor police said Harris had rented a car earlier in the day, then went to a department store and purchased 50 feet of garden hose.

Backing his auto into the car port at the motel, 7500 Mission street, he hooked the hose on to the exhaust pipe, and placed the other end inside the car, then closed the windows, police said.

Charles Tanner, a guest at the motel, thought Harris' actions suspicious and notified police.

Following release from the local hospital, Harris was taken to San Mateo Community hospital for 72 hours of observation.

Police said he had no relatives.

Health Center Topic Renewed At Council

The question of where Daly City stands with San Mateo county in the acquisition of a health center was brought up again at Monday night's study session of the city council.

Ed Cavagnaro, local recreation commissioner, asked if the council "had anything in mind for selecting a health center site." South San Francisco recently turned over a site to the county and probably will receive funds for construction of a health center.

Councilman Del Wilson told Cavagnaro that he had been meeting with county and local officials in a quest to find an adequate site, but had had no success to date.

Wilson added that the county wanted to put in only a welfare building and clinic, not a hospital, and said "this is of no benefit to us."

'Party Crasher' Case Is Taken Under Submission

Charges of assault and battery and disturbing the peace, filed against Donald V. Messina, 19, 93 Bepler street, were taken under submission yesterday by Judge Thomas L. Bocci of municipal court. Signer of the complaint against Messina who has a long juvenile record, is Harry Ferris Sr. of 67 Willits street.

Ferris claims that Messina and some other youths crashed a party given by Ferris' daughter at the family home on August 24. Messina was the instigator of a brawl in which Ferris allegedly suffered bodily injury, according to the complaint.

Police were called to the scene by neighbors. Both Messina and the Ferris son were treated at Junipero Serra hospital, police said.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

Heard from our old friends the 87th street Sewing Circle again, for the first time since last spring, and it seems that they aren't always true to 87th street. Facts in the case: Mary Hess, Zoe Andrade, Stella Magoon, Jean Brugge and Marion Spry packed their thimbles and needles and departed for Belmont recently, where they met at the home of former 87th streeter, Irene Hess. There to meet them was Emily Hager, also another ex-Broadmoorite, who now lives in Montclair. As to which flew faster, needles or tongues, your guess is a good as the next one!

90th street's Herb and Nonette Swedberg are the proud possessors of five happy years of marriage. They celebrated same with a look at "Pajama Game," and came back with the enthusaistic reaction that show seems to give everybody.

What was our surprise last week but to run into Jean Suenderman, Mary Contreras, Helen Mahoney and Nellie Krawetz in the hall at Edgemont school in San Bruno! They were there on Cub Scout business, and told us that Marge Leuter and Marguerite Stern were there too. Well, we've always said that you could meet somebody from the Villages almost anywhere!

One of the things we like best, column-wise, is welcoming new families, and there are two of them to say hello to this week. John and Phyllis Serabian now live on Sweetwood; Phyllis is the head pediatric nurse at St. Francis hospital. Another on the list of RN's on the Village roster! And while we're still in the medical department, it's an apt place to introduce Dr. Allen Guerrini and wife Royal, who are new Maddux drive people. They should feel right at home around here—they have four children (three boys and a girl)! Allen is a surgeon, and Royal is from Australia.

Conversely, one of the things we hate most is saying goodbye to Village families who are moving elsewhere. Jack and Fleta Lagoria have left Wildwood for San Francisco, and Eleanor and Dave Bloom are temporarily living on Como street in Daly City while waiting for their new home in Millbrae Meadows to be finished. There are friends and neighbors here who will miss them all.

Did you know department: George Collins, local Fuller Brush man, used to be a cartoonist before coming west, and still paints portraits of his family and friends as a hobby. All this came to light when he admired the original ship painting at our house. (Artist Larry Green, take a bow!)

A cake that did practically everything but sit up and recite was the object of much admiration at the neighborhood party held for Carlton Read by his Beechwood friends. It had a map of the United States, with California very heavily accented in icing, an American flag waving, and "Welcome home, Carlton" on it—all at once! Fourteen neighbors and one former neighbor, Jack Johnson, met at the home of the Ivor Hesketts and, together with Carlton and wife Maryann, had a wonderful evening together.

Visitors arrived at Our Town (BV and GV, not TV!) from all over lately. Over on Sweetwood, Erma Tarleton is enjoying a month's visit from her mother, Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, of Kansas City, Missouri. Mrs. Kennedy usually comes coastward every year to spend some time with Erma and some with her son, Admiral Marvin G. Kennedy, Jr., who lives in Orinda. On October 22, Erma has planned a birthday party for mother, who will be 77. Erma's aunt, Mrs. Christine Crockett, and her daughter, Mrs. E. S. Gianotti, will join with the Tarletons and the junior Kennedys for the celebration, which will be a very happy one, we know.

Edith Warmoth had a visit from her cousin, Karl Kolbo, not so long ago. He had come down from Redman, Washington, to spend some time with his son in Belmont, and stopped by to exchange family news with Edith for a while.

Last but not at all least, Hazel and Dude Eagleton have house guests from Anchorage, Alaska—Dude's brother Carl, his wife Jane and daughter Maxine. They plan to be here for a nice long visit, catching up on events in their home state. Carl is from the Bay Area, while Jane's from the (LA) south. Now you know to whom that nice new Pontiac station wagon belongs—the one which has been gracing the Eagleton driveway on Nimitz!

No week is complete without a birthday party, and Paul Chernock is the lucky young man of 6 who had friends in for fun and cake up on Bradley drive. Ley and Jay Elliot, Eddie Morris, Jackie Murrish, Mary Jane Miles and Jerry Olsen remember the day, too.

It's getting so that anything under six children in a Village family just doesn't count any more! Jerry and Sheila Mahoney down on Wildwood qualify, though, because they recently introduced new little Sheila Patricia to her brothers and sister. Peggy is that glad to have a sister so that Timothy, Michael, Jimmy and Terence don't overwhelm her with boy talk and boy play. Sheila only had 6 lbs., 8 oz. on her side to start with, but she'll hold her own!

There were also two first babies this week, who are really Villagers-by-proxy, sort of. Miss Sarah Eloise Browning came home to her grandma, Norma Neill, before going to her own home in Albany. Needless to say, mother Jana kept her company on MacArthur drive, and was glad of grandma's help with 8 lbs., 8 oz. of cuddly baby. . . . Another new little miss, Kathy Ann Feugate, spent some time with her mother at her uncle's house before going home to San Jose. Donald Perry on Beechwood was the proud and lucky uncle who played host to a 7 lbs., 6 oz. young guest.

Berta Macklin is sitting in her Sullivan street home wrinkling her brow, wracking her brain, and tearing her hair. Why all this? She can't seem to find the one more child to complete the enrollment at the Village Play school, and as membership chairman she's responsible. Is there anyone among the 3 to 5 year olds who will volunteer and spare Berta her misery?

Just can't seem to get away from the flu bug for any length of time before it's back bothering and Orloff had a siege at home, as did Clifford Box. The Nagel family on Gilman had its snuffly noses too for a while, and Herb Stettler isn't feeling so hot. Billie Buchanan hasn't been too chipper, either, along with son Jim. We hope that they can all read the get-well wishes written between these lines.

Quite a bit of excitement over at Colma school last week, with students Dixie Howell, Richard Hillman, George Mueller, Webb Parker, Richard Greenwood and Bill Golub suddenly finding themselves acting as "student atmosphere" in a PTA news picture. Young men Lee and Pip Mattison were in it, too, as well as Florence Doyle of Daly City and her daughter Deborah, age 6. The sun was right, the time was right and the subjects were terrific!

A birthday to end all birthdays, which lasted two days, belongs to Vi Murphy—Midway, of course! Her B-Day started out with a Lions club lunch with 85 guests, a cake with sparklers on it, and an orchid corsage from Maryann Read. It finished up with a dinner party over on Stewart, where Meredith and Martin Orloff entertained Vi and Vin in fine style. And, on the day after the birthday, Roberta Taylor invited Vi to a lunch which included guests and birthday presents! Robert's Nimitz drive headquarters had Bea Yates, Lisa Moore, Rosemary Lamentia, Hilda Stettler, Roslyn Navarro and Hazel Eagleton reporting in. La Verne Muncey couldn't make it, but sent a most useful present—a shoulder phone holder. What an ideal gift for all busy gals like Vi.

House-remodeling still seems to be tops in conversation and activity around both Villages. The Boccis and the Pinellis have had their Village Lane homes enlarged, and Carlos Mattson, Mark Swoverland and Ray Logan are working away on the additional-space problem too. It would be so much easier if a house could be built with rubber walls in the first place!

Lucky Skillman family down on Stewart—they have a nice new beige and maroon Buick to enjoy—and keep dusted and polished and waxed in regular new-car procedure!

Surprise of the week belongs to Mary Lichenberg, who was having picnic lunch with daughter Beth on her front steps when Louvaine neighbors Janet Rizzo and Edith Warmoth came over singing happy birthday and carrying a cake! Charlotte Spruiell and Jean Suenderman were there too to join in the fun. That wasn't all: Mary had had another party that morning up at the Broadmoor Nursery school, where she helps Mrs. Glasse. All the children had ice cream and cake in honor of Mary's birthday, which made everybody happy: Couldn't think of a nicer person to have it happen to, either, and we'd like to add happy birthday to the best WAC 1st Sgt. ever!

Busy times around the Zylker house on Nimitz these day. Dick had a birthday, with wife Helen taking him out to dinner first and then a family gathering back home later on for cake-and-coffee. Both his family and hers were there, which was a nice houseful all around. Just before all this, Helen had given a block Tupperware party, with a mystery hostess whose name was drawn at the last gasp before deadline time! Phyllis Kullberg was the lucky one to get the hostess prize. By the time this sees the black of print, Helen will have been hostess at another party, a shower for a friend! More details next week!

TWO DANGER POINTS

More serious traffic accidents result from two causes than from all others, says the California State Automobile Association. These are improper passing and driving too fast for conditions. Be sure there's a margin of safety when you pass another car, and use good judgment in regulating your driving speed.

Two Local Teachers Named To Bay Group

Two teachers in local schools were named as representatives to the Bay Section Council, California Teachers Association Council, at a meeting held in Berkeley on Saturday.

They were Ethel Hahn and Marjorie Rondeau. Regina Warchot of South San Francisco was also named representative.

The committee on teacher recruitment recommended action to help relieve the shortage of adequately trained teachers.

to Noonan.

Not "Forthwith"

The incorporation group's claim to jurisdiction over the strip is based on the fact that Daly City did not act "forthwith" in annexing the land.

It was originally at request of the incorporation group, however, that Daly City held up the annexation. Shortly thereafter the petition was started for incorporation, without the city's knowledge.

HOLD JEFFERSON HI BUSES SO STUDENTS CAN ATTEND CLUBS

Jefferson High school faculty and student executive board voted last week to hold school buses until 3:30 p.m. on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, so that students may attend afternoon club meetings.

Formerly, these groups met weekly or bi-weekly from 8 until 8:20 a.m., but because of crowded enrollment, classes are now being held at this time.

Under the new system, club sessions will be held from 3 and 3:30 p.m. Students dismissed at 2 p.m. but who wish to participate in the clubs may wait in the cafeteria from 2 until 3 p.m.

United States factories produced 700 motor trucks and busses in 1904, according to the National Automobile Club.

$600 Fire Strikes Firm

Fire broke out early Thursday morning at the Daly City Snowman building, 7199 Mission street, but was extinguished in about 10 minutes by the local fire department, according to Chief Elmer Kennedy.

The fire started in a deep fat fryer, which was either left on all night or equipped with a defective switch, Kennedy said. The blaze was spotted by a passerby at 6:10 a.m. and firemen were called.

Three trucks responded, but only one was needed. Kennedy estimated damage at $600.

By The Class

Our class if off to a good start with our studies. We are making good progress with the 3 R's.

The total enrollment of our room is 27; 17 boys and 10 girls. Although the girls are outnumbered they managed to hold their own in physical education and spelling matches.

In our social studies we are studying life in an Indian pueblo. We have learned that the Pueblo Indians are far more civilized than other American Indians. They are very interesting to learn about because they live today almost as they did hundreds of years ago. We saw a film on the Hopi Indians and observed their methods of making pottery. We are going to make some Indian pottery as a class project.

California has 18 wild areas containing 573,275 acres.

Crockerites Report

First Grade - Rm. 6
Mrs. J. Koenig

The children in the First Grade at Crocker School have missed Otto Villias. He has been home many days with bronchitis.

"Homes" is a topic of great interest to this class just now. Stephen Doane, Richard Atkins, Mitzi Montgomery, Timothy Cargain have worked hard collecting pictures of one family dwellings.

The class is planning to visit an apartment building in Parkmerced to learn how family activities differ in apartment homes from their own homes.

Rochelle Rivera's mother came to visit her teacher recently. The teacher wishes more mothers would come to talk over their child's progress.

Second Grade - Rm. 5
Mrs. D. Malone

Our class formed a Library Club. Jeannette Williams and Charlene Marshall were selected as librarions.

We are learning about our community and its many important buildings in our neighborhood.

We are making a model of our community out of paper. The children are becoming more aware of the many things in their neighborhood.

VINCE & FRED, LUCE MEATS TAKE OVER DC BOWLING

Paul's Flowers was toppled from the leadership of the Daly City-Colma Bowling league Tuesday at Brentwood when they were handed a three-loss pasting by Luce Meat.

Luce thus moved into a tie for first with Vince & Fred, who blanked Daly City Cleaners three straight. Both clubs now have 9-3 records.

Tony Barsuglia's 507 series led Luce Meat. B. Rocchetta's 222 game, high for the night, and 531 series, was not enough for Paul's to overcome Luce's team power.

Vince & Fred's Vince Merlo banged the pins for a 539 series, while teammate Tony Santos hit 515.

Westlake Homes hung on to second place by taking a pair from Carlos Pizzeria, while San Pedro Lunch registered a three-game sweep over Thur Meat. Walt Shaw's 516 series and Frank Lister's 503 series led the winners.

High for the meatmen was Frank Thur, with a 203 game and 558 series.

Behind Roccheta's high game were Frank Thur, 203, Ed Bucher, 201, and Herm Kalinin, 201.

Golf Tips

By BILL McARTHUR

Professional, Treasure Island Driving Range

Fire and Fall Back!

Recently I was asked why is it that when a player like Snead or Littler or Harvie Ward or Silvestri finish their swing they are always well over on their left leg, and the club is swung completely around so that the shaft is behind their neck at the finish. The simplest answer I could give to that question was that they transfered their weight properly. Watch any good player's foot and hip action. Their legs are never rigid, nor are they very loose or out of balance. Good foot action is a must in a good golf swing.

THE FAULT:

The usual trouble with the golfer who swings and falls back is that when taking the club back from the ball he never gets the weight off of his left leg or right leg in the case of lefties. Now with the club up at the top of the backswing and the weight still on the left leg there is only one way for him to get down to the ball again and that is to swing his weight over to his right leg as he starts down at the ball. In other words he is falling back away from the ball as he attempts to hit it. This fault can cause you to slice, top, hit behind the ball or cut down your distance to a very minimum.

THE CORRECTION:

Try standing with all of your weight on your right heel. Notice that in order to do that you had to shift your hip slightly to the right side. (Lefties do just the opposite.) Caution: Do not lock your right knee. Notice now that with your weight on your right heel you are able to role your left foot in with the left heel slightly off the ground. This is the way your weight should be transfered at the top of your backswing. When starting down plant your left heel down at the same time pull down with your left arm and follow on through. Notice with the transfer of your weight to your left side that your right knee will bend toward the ball as you swing down. This is a good sign that you are getting your weight over to your left leg. Actually you should be able to step out after the ball with your right foot as you follow through. Try it. If your weight transfer is correct your right foot should be free to move on ahead.

REMEMBER:

The transfer of weight does not include the shoulder or head. The shoulders do the turning while the head remains still. Tilt your head slightly so that you are looking at the ball out of your left eye. Keep your head in position until the ball has left the tee. A little hula or rhumba in the swing never hurts.

Judge Bocci Bows Out In Ace Tourney; Lewis Takes Lead

Chuck Lewis, owner of the Colma Driving Range, took over first place in the Marian Council, Knights of Columbus, hole-in-one golf tournament at his own range, as the early leader, Judge Thomas L. Bocci, voluntarily bowed out.

Bocci had practically a cinch for the $500 prize money, but he witdrew his shot, three fourths of an inch from the cup, since he is deputy grand knight of the sponsoring group.

Lewis smashed one within one half inch of the cup to take over first.

The contest continues through Sunday. To date approximately 1000 swingers have entered the contest, which has a grand prize of a deep freeze full of meat for a hole-in-one.

Up to Thursday, $1500 in prizes had been given away to winners who placed the nearest the cup in hourly and daily competition.

Some $2000 in prizes remain to be awarded.

The total national production of sweet cherries in 1954 was 200 millions pounds.

Jeff Favorites In Grid League Debut Today Against PAL Duds, Carlmont

Frosh-Soph Win Opener On Last Second Aerial

A twisting, wrestling catch of Paul Tapia's pass by Pete Garcia with seconds left in the contest gave Jefferson High school frosh-soph club a 13-6 win over Sequoia Thursday in the season opener at Daly City.

The score was knotted, 6-6, with 30 seconds in the game as the Indians opened their longest drive from their own 35-yard line. Running of Halback Sonny Martinez brought the ball to the Sequoia 30. With fourth down, eight to go, Tapia shot the "go for broke" pass to Garcia, who was just skirting the sideline markers in the end zone. With two defenders on his back, Tapia leaped high and came up with the Big Six.

Jump To Lead

The Jeffs took the lead in the fifth play of the first quarter on a stroke of luck, as the Sequoians fumbled and left end Larry Schoenfeldt recovered, rambling 45 yards for a touchdown.

The Indians threatened to take a hefty lead when, in the second quarter Neil Dunsford broke away through the middle for a 65-yard TD run, but was called back on a backfield in motion penalty.

Moments later Sequoia got their break as, Paul Tapia was nailed on his own two-yard line on fourth down after a bad center. The Sequoians plunged over to tie it up, and the gun ended at six apiece.

Another Bad Center

In the third quarter another bad center on the Jeffs 10-yard line looked like a sure tally for the opposition, but the Indian line held fast, in fact threw Sequoia back to the 25.

Neither team threatened again and it appeared a deadlocked finish, when Tapia flipped his game-winner to Garcia.

Dunsford ran it over for the conversion and all the Indians had to do then was go through the kick-off motions, as time ran out.

Coach Tony Giammona, in his yearling season with the frosh-soph, had good words for Dunsford, Martinez, Tapia in the backfield, Adrian Thompson on defense at right tackle, Cliff Cushing, guard, Garcia both ways, and Frank Pitto, 230 pound tackle, on defense.

"The line looked real good," Giammona observed. He said the only real bumbles in the Jeff machinery were the two bad centers. "Otherwise, Sequoia didn't have a chance."

The opening day win was surprising in as much as Giammona lost four of his regulars last week due to ineligibility. The academic axe hit ends Bob Barry and Charlie Banfield, Fullback Barry Wight and Left guard Bob Simi. "We had to fill in on four-day notice," the coach revealed, "And we still haven't found a replacement for Simi.

Boys Club Smacks Last Two Opponents

Jim Hennessey's no-hit relief pitching helped Daly City Boys' club smear Saint Michael's last week, 12-3.

Bill Kane worked the first four innings, giving up one hit, seven walks and all three runs, while striking out three batters.

Hennessey took over, holding the opposition hitless, while walking four, striking out three.

Barry Krohn slammed three hits, a triple and two singles, in as many trips to lead the Daly City nine-hit attack. George Damron got two for four.

Daly City's big inning was the second, in which they got eight runs.

In Saturday's game, Daly City wallopped Saint Anne, 9-2.

Again it was the Kane-Hennessey team fashioning the win, as Kane went five innings, giving up two hits, six walks, no runs and striking out four, while Hennessey gave up two runs on two hits and three walks, striking out two.

Rich Morales let the hitting with three for four, while Damron had two for two.

This Saturday the Boys club will face Saint Gabriel's Giants at Marchbanks, starting at 2 p.m.

Thur Kicks 2 Field Goals In SM Victory

Encouraged by their 20-6 victory over Orange Coast college, the College of San Mateo Bulldogs will open their conference season this Friday evening at West Contra Costa Junior College, the 1954 co-champion of the league.

The game is set for 8 o'clock on the Richmond High school field.

San Mateó dominated the playing against Orange Coast, holding the southerners to one first down and 56 yards while running up 16 first downs and 291 yards. Touchdowns were scored for San Mateo by End Mike Smith on a pass from Quarterback Manny Escalara, Halfback Bruce Schaake on a pass from Quarterback Jim Connor, and by half back Dexter Mullen on a five-yard blast over left guard. Guard Jack Thur of Daly City kicked two conversions.

The win was San Mateo's first victory of the season against one defeat, both games being non-conference tilts.

INDIANS LOOK GOOD IN 26-13 SERRA LOSS

Jefferson High school's varsity football team wil lattempt to open the Peninsula Athletic league season with an auspicious start Friday at 3:15 p.m. when they bump heads with Carlmont, the only team they managed to beat last year.

While the Indians looked respectable in losing last Friday to Serra, 26-13, the Scots were surprising in claiming a 26-14 victory over SF's Washington. It was the first varsity football win for Carlmont since they started playing the game in 1954.

Coach Joe McGrath's Jeffersonites should still remain a slight favorite when the two teams meet at the Carlmont green.

McGrath will field his same starting line-up as last week, with the exception of halfback Hal Funkhouser, who suffered a cleat gash on his knee in the Serra fray and has been out all week.

The backfield will be directed by masterful quarterback Jim Honeywell, with Ron O'Rourke and Tex Prentice at halves, and Lee Casentini at the full back niche.

Going at ends will be Ted Amirkhan and Jim Giblin, Roger Robinson and Herman Kihs at tackles, John Monson and Bob Grubb, guards, and Don Wiesner, center.

Chief Threats

Chief threats in the Carlmont eleven are Ed Parlette, a nifty passer, and Joe Valentine, the team's running journeyman. McGrath declined to comment on the outcome, but said, "They're much improved over last year."

Today's contest will find a cross-country track meet between Carlmont and Jeff sandwiched in at half-time.

Last Friday's game should have gone just 24 minutes, and the Indians would have put an end to Serra's 14-game win streak.

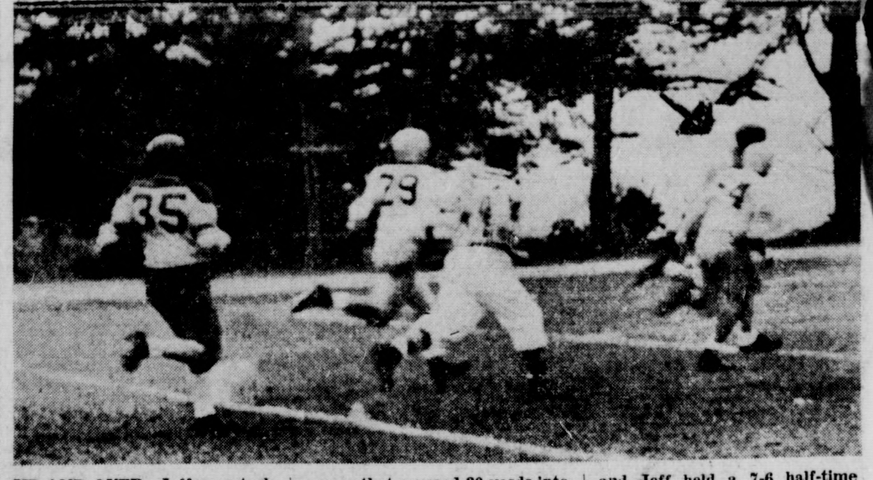
The Indian line was rushing Serra passer Sil Vial into a hole on nearly every play, while the offensive machinery was running smoothly behind Honeywell. The Jeffs held a 7-6 half-time lead, but three quick touchdowns in the third quarter tied up Serra's 15th win.

Even at that, the Indians looked much more polished than last year, when they were mangled, 31-0, by the Serrans.

The stand-up crowd of 1000 plus was frantic in the opening minutes of play as Honeywell maneuvered the Indians from their own 41 to the Padre four, off his own 31-yard run, and a 25-yard scamper by Jerry Howard on the next play.

Fumble Stops It

But a fumble, although recovered by the Indins, ate up the final down as the drive faded.



UP AND OVER—Jefferson took the lead Friday in their contest with Serra when Jim Honeywell, after moving the Indians 32 yards, hit end Tom Cloutier with a pass that covered 30 yards into the end zone. Cloutier is flanked by tacklers, but weaved his way behind the goal posts standing up. The conversion was good and Jeff held a 7-6 half-time lead, only to be buried by Serra's three TD avalanche in the third quarter. THE RECORD photo

Serra got the advantage in the first play of the second period, as Vial, throwing from the Jeff 34, hit Will Silverthorne down the middle. He went over standing up.

Gentlemen Jim fired his club up at the kick-off, as Jefferson moved 62 yards in six plays. A 30-yard toss to end Tom Cloutier tied the game up, and O'Rourke's conversion gave the Indians a 7-6 half-time lead.

Opening the third period, Serra travelled six plays to pay dirt, after running back the kickoff to the hosts' 32. Vial hit Silverthorne on a 17-yard pass for the score.

A few minutes later, Vial fired another one to Ernie Biagi, who crossed over the goal in a play that covered 53 yards.

The Padres wound up scoring for the day when a Honeywell kick was snared by Padre safetyman Phil Lugea, who threaded his way 63 yards to score.

Ron O'Rourke gave Jefferson their final six-pointer with one of the best runs of the day, gallopping 85 yards up the middle to score.

The Padres had only a slight edge in the statistics, gaining 10 first downs to Jeff's 9, 110 yards through the air to 90 for Jeff, and 167 net yards rushing, to 131 for the Daly City club.

McGrath cited the exceptional play of Amirkhan at right end, O'Rourke and Honeywell in the backfield.

INDIAN CAGERS LOSE FIRST TILT TO BEARCAT 20's

A strong San Mateo team handed Jefferson High school's 20's basketball team their first loss of the season Tuesday, 53-42, while the Indian 10's stretched their undefeated mark to four as they shaved past the Mateans, 29-28.

The Bearcat 20s held a 24-20 half-time advantage, then outscored the Indians in the final two periods.

Al Dye was high for Jefferson with 11 markers, followed by Leroy Franzoia's 10. Ino Patron was the Indian's top floorman.

Jeff's hopes were sunk by San Mateo's All-PAL candidate, Bill Brestal, who tanked 20 points.

The loss was Jefferson's first in four starts and left them with a 1-1 record in PAL standings.

Steve Opperman hit the mesh with a free throw as 20 seconds showed on the clock to give the 10s their 29-28 win.

In the first half Jefferson trailed, 12-8, with 20 seconds to go, but equalized things as Wayne Lewis and Ross Holmgren potted two-pointers, tying up the score.

Don Miller led the winners with 10 talies. The 10s now have four straight wins and a 2-0 record in league action.

Both teams were scheduled to meet Half Moon Bay yesterday. Next Tuesday it's Hillsdale there, and Carlmont here on Thursday.
